Data Storage

BIMM operate a record retention policy which outlines how long different types of information are kept. Different records are retained for different lengths of time depending on the original purpose for collecting the data. Retention schedules will be determined by legal, statutory, contractual or business needs.

Where necessary, we may transfer personal information outside of the UK. When doing so, we comply with the UK GDPR, making sure appropriate safeguards are in place.

BIMM will only store your personal data in the UK, EEA or another country where the UK government have granted adequacy under the data partnership agreements. If there is a need to process personal data in another territory, BIMM will ensure that relevant security measures are in place to protect your personal data. This will include placing contractual obligations on our data processors or ensuring recipients have subscribed to the relevant international frameworks that aim to ensure adequate protection.

Who we share information with and why we share it

We will only disclose your personal data to a third party when we are required to by law, where we have your specific consent, or where appropriate arrangements are in place with regard to data sharing.

Information is shared within our company structure. As part of this any data collected by BIMM University Limited, Met Film School Limited or BIMM Dublin Limited will be shared with BIMM Group Limited for the purpose of administering your contract of employment. This data sharing takes place under an intra group agreement which governs the appropriate use and security requirements of your personal data.

BIMM share staff data for the purpose of facilitating your contract of employment with the following data processors:

Data Processor	Purpose for data sharing

Where a member of staff has provided emergency contacts, their details will be held in our HR system against the staff member. These details will only be used to contact the named individual(s) in the event of an emergency or to safeguard the member of staff.

Your data may be shared with third parties to whom we may choose to sell, transfer or merge parts of our business or our assets. Alternatively, we may seek to acquire other businesses or merge with them. If a change happens to our business, or is proposed to happen, then the new owners may use your personal data in the same way as set out in this Privacy Notice.

Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights including:

Your right of access - You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal data.

Your right to rectification - You have the right to ask us to rectify personal data you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.

Your right to erasure - You have the right to ask us to erase your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to restriction of processing - You have the right to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to object to processing - You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.

Your right to data portability - You have the right to ask that we transfer the personal data you gave us to another organisation, or to you, in certain circumstances.

Your right to withdraw consent – When we use consent as our lawful basis you have the right to withdraw your consent.

You don't usually need to pay a fee to exercise your rights. If you make a request, we have one calendar month to respond to you.

To make a data protection rights request, please write to the Data Protection Officer using the details at the top of this privacy notice.

How to complain

If you have any concerns about the way BIMM collects or processes your personal data, you can make a complaint to us using the contact details at the top of this privacy notice.

We ask that in the first instance you give us the chance to put things right. However, if you remain unhappy with how we've used your data after raising a complaint with us, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a Data Protection Supervisory Authority.

The Data Protection Supervisory Authority for the United Kingdom is the Information Commissioner's Office.
